A large, vibrant green brushstroke graphic that sweeps across the left side of the slide. It has a textured, painterly appearance with varying shades of green and some white highlights, suggesting movement and energy. A white rectangular frame is overlaid on the left portion of this brushstroke.

In reviewing Aaron Leyva's board game project I was struck by how professional it was. The graphic design, games rules structure and game balance and layout were excellent.

It is my sincere hope that I get to work with Mr. Leyva in the near future. Judging by the work he has produced so far, I know he would be a tremendous asset for my company.

Turning school Lessons into T-shirts and Sales

History of AMC and Trademark Research

I was quickly warned by both my Dad and Mr DeVries that even though AMC was bought out there trademark my still be around and i could be sued over it so I did research into it.

In 1954 and being finalized in 1957 the Nash Corporation and Hudson company join together and form the American Motors Corporation starting the trademark

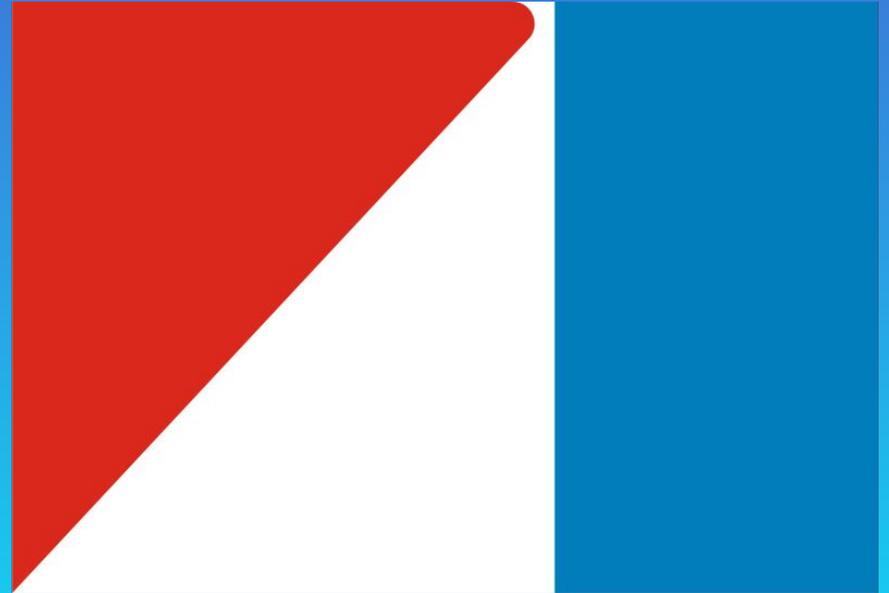

From 1957 to 1964 AMC sales sky rocket charting them at the third most popular car company behind ford and chevy

1964 to 1966 AMCs financial struggles begin they lose 12.6 million dollars of profit in 1966

1970s AMCS introduces there muscle car lines like the Javelin and AMX they also buy the Jeep name which just gets them by

Following they 1980s AMC is financially bankrupt and get bought out by Chrysler

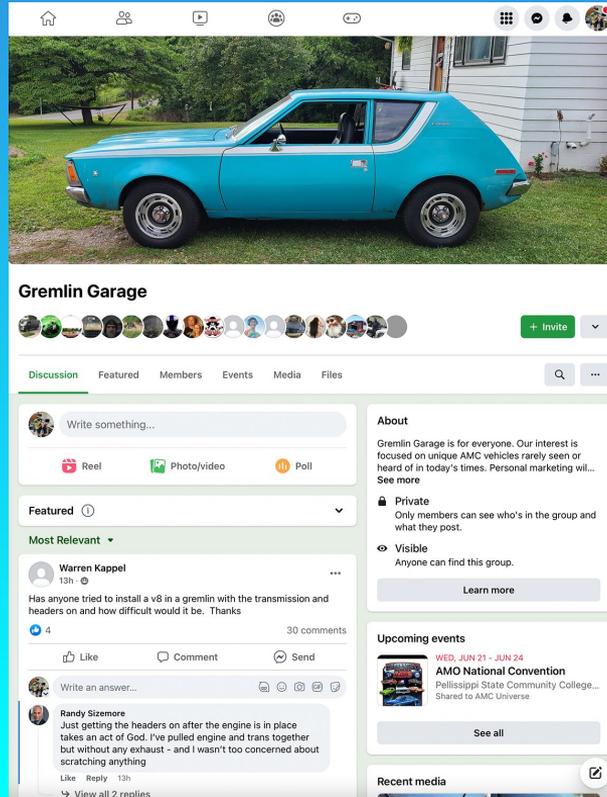

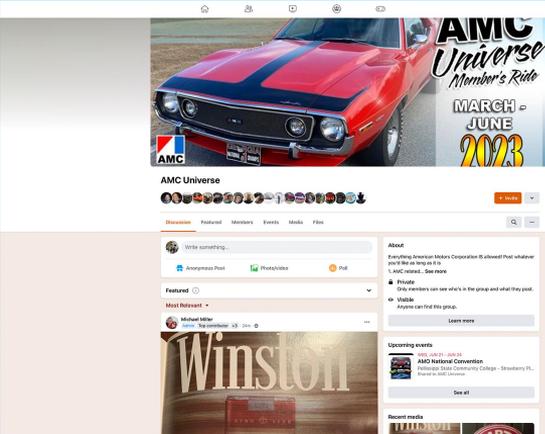

In 2018 Chrysler canceled there ownership of the AmC trademark destroying the company and making it free to use.

Marketing Pages

- The two main pages i use to market is Gremlin Garage and AMC Universe
