AP Research: Summer Assignment 2025

At the end of the school year in AP Seminar, we brainstormed many potential topics and gaps in research that could be interesting points of inquiry for AP Research. This summer, I want you to choose one of these topics and carry out preliminary research in order for you to develop a proposal for your year long investigation.

Task:

1. Select an academic topic, problem, issues, or idea of individual interest.
2. Conduct preliminary research into your topic.
3. Develop an annotated bibliography (see attached handout for requirements and rubric).
4. Finalize a research question/project goal.

Upon return to school:

5. Present your proposed area of inquiry to the class.
6. Provide feedback to your peers along with ideas for consideration.
7. Reflect on peer feedback and revise proposal accordingly.

Grades:

1. Annotated Bibliography - 50 point summative assessment
2. Research Question/Project Goal - 50 point formative assessment

QUESTIONS? Email me at amusibay@jefftwp.org with any questions/concerns! I will get back to you as soon as possible.
